

Mount Sinai
Kravis Children's Hospital

The Jack Martin Fund
Children and Adolescent
Imaging Center

The Jack Martin Fund
Child and Adolescent
Imaging Center

Mount
Sinai

Kravis Children's Hospital

Dedicated Child and Adolescent Imaging Center Central to Pediatric Cancer Patients

Dedicated access for physicians and patients to state of the art imaging technology including magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), ultrasound machines, fluoroscopy, and computed tomography (CT)

- Create a safer environment for children and adolescents, allowing for a substantial increase in positive outcomes
- Significantly decrease radiation exposure for children by incorporating a child and adolescent specific fluoroscopy and CT machines
- Substantially reduce wait times, allowing for timely interventions and treatments

Improve the patient experience and minimize need for sedation with enhanced

- Technology
 - Dedicated MRI suite
 - Virtual Reality (VR) Goggles
- People
 - Partner with Child Life specialists and therapy dogs to alleviate stress and anxiety for the child and family